BW Business World (Nova Déli, Índia)

30/04/2018

Technology is driving changes in almost all major business verticals in India be it FinTech, HealthTech, EdTech AgriTech or Insurtech. Adoption of technology for any industry is no longer an option, but has become a necessity. Anyone who doesn't embrace this change is going to be left behind, as technology is re-moulding the fundamental way of doing business. InsurTech in particular is a hot topic of discussion right now, owing to both (...)

Como a SUSEP fará a regulamentação das insurtechs?

<http://www.segs.com.br/seguuros/113662-como-a-susep-fara-a-regulamentacao-das-insurtechs>

Segs.com.br (Santos, Brasil)

28/04/2018

Faz algum tempo que a SUSEP (Superintendência de Seguros Privados) está de olho no que as insurtechs estão trazendo de inovação para o mercado de seguros. Mas nos últimos meses essa atenção tem sido mais intensa. No início de abril, esse órgão supervisor e regulador do mercado de seguros brasileiro participou do maior evento de inovação em seguros na América Latina, o Insurtech Brasil 2018, e deixou os novos entrantes (...)

How the insurtech wave revitalized the insurance talent pool

<https://www.dig-in.com/opinion/how-the-insurtech-wave-revitalized-the-insurance-talent-pool>

Joe McKendrick, Digital Insurance (Nova York, USA)

23/04/2018

One of the challenges the insurance industry has been battling over the past decade or so has been attracting enough of the talent that can lead insurers into the digital economy. With digital brands such as Google and Amazon sucking up all available talent, and many of the remaining tech professionals following their dreams in startups with weird-sounding names, selling employment at a more staid, conservative insurance company (...)
