

Please join us for a webinar

Wednesday, June 24, 2020

Join us to hear from professionals throughout DLA Piper Latin America and our colleagues at BMS Group as we discuss the broad economic outlook and the issues facing insurance and reinsurance companies across the region in the face of new economic challenges and opportunities.

Our webinar speakers will examine the following questions:

- How may the industry and its client base be affected by the potential of a severe economic downturn?
- What are the implications for future availability and pricing of insurance?
- What new areas of opportunity may open up?

The panel will also analyze exposures for the wider financial sector and related industries.

We hope you will join us.
